Shelley attended online classes hosted by Atlantia on growing, pruning and caring for period roses. She also entered a clothing challenge.

Heathyr is having success with her dye garden which includes coreopsis, marigolds, indigo, madder and woad.

My herb garden had a prolific yield of rosemary, thyme and lemon balm this year.

Z is working on a steel crossbow.

Let me know what projects you are working on and how you have spent your time while in quarantine. Have you been sewing, cooking or making items to add to your Scadian stash? Pictures of these projects most welcome. Send information to niaofglanymor@gmail.com

Among the clouds

Written by Finn

A steel bird flies over lofty pines.
A journey begins with widened eyes
A peaceful world lends its open hand
Upon journey's end to welcome ground
A gentle Shepard sounds his horn.
The protective flock must be gathered
From the plush fields of green they graze
Out under flowing alpine sunshine rays
The journey takes flight once more
Rise above to land among the clouds
The beauty matched by heaven's clouded plane
A place where feelings can only be serene.
Feel something softly reach out and touch you
As sheep like clouds leap through the alpine sky
The eternal setting framed in pristine beauty
Fading away from sight as you wave goodbye.
